

Ethical Code for Authors

Submission of a manuscripts equal to the author's copyright declaration and that the work is free from legal defects, and implies the author's consent for it to be published and disseminated (publication unlimited in time and space as well as grants permission to free copies and online accessibility).

Author(s) is obliged to:

1. Present original, written by himself/herself work.
2. Declare that the submitted manuscript is original, not published previously, neither in whole nor in part, in any language, and has been submitted to the journal.
3. Indicate the sources of any images or figures used if they are not originals, show the reproduction permit.
4. Provide all needed in the process of publication copyright valwers and permissions to use third parties properties (e.g. text, translation, figure etc..), third parties properties.
5. List co-authors who have made substantial contribution do the submitted manuscript.
6. To prevent the phenomena of 'guest', 'gift' or 'ghost' authorship the authors should ensure they fulfill the criteria to be listed as authors and none of them is disregarded.
7. Properly assign authorship and design one of the authors responsible for contact and transmission of information between the Editorial Board and co-authors, and should be involved in key decisions making relating to publication (e.g. review responses).
8. Describe the applied methods clearly and unambiguously so that the findings can be confirmed by others.
9. Present clearly and accurately cited and annotated sources.
10. Cooperate with editors in issuing corrections and/or retractions when required.